What if. . .

- a single principle could dramatically change your parenting or teaching life?
- you knew how to intentionally use that principle with your family or in your classroom for the benefit of everyone concerned?
- this seminar contained information that would help you implement that principle in your own life as well as teach it to your children?

It does!

Millions of people are using the Attraction Principle to produce the ideal mate, create a meaningful job, build wealth, and attract health for themselves. Few are purposefully teaching this valuable concept to their children. This occurs not because people do not want to teach this principle to children. It occurs because they do not know how.

This seminar will teach you how.
